

WARNS THE SAINTS

ADDRESS DELIVERED TO MORMON CHURCH OFFICIALS.

Does Leslie Bush, Asst. School Land Commissioner, of Guthrie, Oklahoma.

Territory of Oklahoma, ss. County of Logan, ss.

Feb. 12, 1896.

Personally appeared before me, Wm. Blincoe, a notary public, in and for said county, on the above date, Leslie Bush, who first being duly sworn, deposes and says: That for about three years prior to September, 1895, his hair continually dropped out until he became almost bald; that in September, 1895, he began to take the free treatment for baldness furnished by the Knowledge Dandruff company at their office in Guthrie, Okla.; that in a short time thereafter his hair ceased to fall out and began to thicken; that he continued the treatment daily for thirty days, and since that time his hair has continued to thicken and grow very fast, until now it is almost as thick and vigorous as it ever was.

LESLIE BUSH.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 12th day of February, 1896.

(Seal.) Wm. BLINCOE.

My commission expires August 24th, 1896.

Nothing is impossible. A few weeks ago you would have looked at the idea of taking a photograph through a brick wall—yet this very thing is being done repeatedly. You doubt that anything can grow hair on bald heads? Why? Simply because you have never seen it done, or because, perhaps, you have been deceived time and time again by other (so-called) restorers. Mr. Bush, whose affidavit is given above, has no more faith than you have. His experience is only one in a thousand.

You need not take our word alone. Read what the Dandruff Herald has to say. Ladies, if you would have beautiful hair—soft and clinging as the snowflakes, fluffy and most luxuriant—then use KIDNEYNE—If once, then always.

All druggists, or sent on receipt of price, $1.00 per bottle.

KIDNEYNE DANDRUFF CO., 65 ft. Guthrie, Oklahoma.

There were no incoming or retiring members of processional music. The company present included, besides those named, Lieutenant F. Tracey, ex-secretary of the navy; ex-Attorney General W. H. Miller and Governor, with his military secretary.

After the benediction had been pronounced and the couple and witnesses had signed their names in the vestry book, they were pulled out to the Parker residence at 40 East Thirty-eighth street where a small reception, followed by a wedding dinner was given.

There was a large crowd around the church, which kept gathering after the wedding party had entered the church. Captain Steinkamp and seventy-five men kept the avenue clear for carriages. There was no block or unusual delay.

Immediately after the bride party left the church the crowd dispersed. At 7 o'clock General Harrison and his bride left the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pinchoke in a closed carriage, entered a closed carriage. In a second carriage were Lieutenant and Mrs. Parker and General Tracey, and in the third carriage Mrs. Harrison's maid, Daniel Tracey and E. F. Tibbets left for the Pennsylvania depot immediately on leaving the church to prepare for the arrival of the bride party. At 7:30 o'clock the party arrived at Des Moines street and were driven immediately to board the ferry, which pulled out soon after for the depot. On the arrival of the party at the depot they were conducted to President Thomson's private car, which had been placed at General Harrison's disposal.

The train started at 8:32 p. m., and is expected to arrive at Indianapolis at 10:15 tomorrow night.

The bride of today is a beautiful woman, blonde, of the type of the daughter of Russell F. Lord, who was general superintendent and chief engineer of the Delaware and Hudson Canal company, and who died during the war in response to the call of his country.

Benjamin E. Dimmick, son of Samuel E. Dimmick, ex-attorney general of Pennsylvania and one of the most prominent lawyers of the state. Three months before his death, however, Mr. Dimmick died of typhoid fever. For years his widow—who was left with an ample estate—was heartbroken and it was not until the illness of Mrs. Harrison during the closing months of the president's administration, that she again appeared in public. During that sorrowful period and after the death of the first lady of the land, she did the work of the White House and it was at this time that the romance that culminated today had its beginning.

Ex-President Harrison is 63 years of age, some twenty-eight years the senior of his bride.

Indianapolis, April 6.—General Harrison's children, Mrs. McKee and Russell F. Harrison, did not start to New York yesterday to attend their father's wedding. There is no estrangement between father and children, but the son and daughter declined not to witness the ceremony.

Philadelphia, April 6.—The train bearing Mr. and Mrs. Harrison arrived here at 10:06 tonight. The bride party occupied a special car. A crowd of about 1,000 braved the rain and gathered about the car. The ex-president appeared on the platform, while the bride stood in the doorway. After they had bidden good-bye to Lieutenant and Mrs. Parker, who left the train at this point, the groom lifted his bride several times in response to the cheers of the crowd. He and his bride then entered the car and the train left for Pittsburgh at 10:27.

PANAMA STOCKHOLDERS MEET

Vacancies in the Directorate Filled and New Members Re-elected.

New York, April 6.—At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Panama railroad today R. M. Galloway and A. Lawrence Hopkins were added to the directorate, taking the place of General Newton, deceased, and E. L. Oppenheim. The other directors were re-elected. At a meeting of the board of directors, J. Edward Simmons was elected president, George Whitcomb, vice president and general manager, and E. A. Drake, secretary.

HELD UP BY THE COMPANIES

Dealers in Cigarettes Testify At the National and American Congress.

Newark, N. J., April 6.—After the testimony of John R. Miller and his son, Frank W., at the afternoon session several witnesses were called, several of whom testified to having handled the goods of either the American or the National companies at different times. W. A. Bingham testified that he had handled the National cigarettes, and had been requested by the American company not to do so. Other witnesses stated that they had given up the American cigarettes because the National company had requested them to do so. The case was then adjourned.

You've seen and heard the loud voiced man at the big railway station, calling the name of the train, telling where each car is going and keeps people from taking wrong trains—if they pay attention.

One's physical feelings are bodily "train callers." They announce the starting of all trains of disease. Most all trains of disease lead to consumption, because consumption is blood disorder and because the blood must be pure and free from impure before any disease can make much headway.

The secret of health is to keep the blood pure and full of strength. When a man or woman loses flesh and vitality, there is something wrong in the blood. The start of it is likely to be in the stomach or bowels, and if they are put in order the trouble gradually stops. Consumption is a germ disease, but if the blood is good, and keeps the lungs strong and healthy, the germs cannot find a place to lodge and are cast off. If there is a weak spot, the germ will find it. Even after that, strong and pure blood will strengthen the lungs so that they can gradually rid themselves of the germs.

It is by creating strength and purity that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures consumption and other diseases. It makes one gain flesh—not flabby, oily fat but sound, firm, useful, healthy flesh. Hundreds of patients have testified to its wonderfully beneficial effects in many diseases and especially in incipient consumption.

A large book of 300 pages, full of these testimonials with portraits and photographs of the writers, can be had by sending a postage and wrapping only. Write Dr. J. C. RAY MEDICAL ASSOCIATES, Buffalo, N. Y.

SULTAN MEANS TO ORDER MISSIONARIES TO LEAVE

Since They Trouble Him by Publishing Tales of Turkish Atrocities, He Seeks to Relieve Himself of the Annoyance by a Wholesale Expulsion of the Offending Class—French Catholics and American Protestants—Irish Trade, Though Not Yet Issued—Pressure Necessary to Secure the Revocation of His Purpose.

London, Eng., April 7.—The Daily News and the Chronicle have a report from Constantinople, said to be on the best authority, that an imperial decree has decreed the wholesale expulsion of all Christian missionaries from Armenia, who are mainly French Catholics and American Protestants. It is still possible, says this report, by immediate pressure, to prevent the execution of the decree, but no time is to be lost.

The Daily News says: There is reason to believe that the Sultan has signed this decree but that it has not yet been issued. It is Lord Salisbury's obvious duty to leave no diplomatic stone unturned to prevent the threatened disaster. No doubt Mr. Riddle, the United States charge d'affaires will act with energy.

The Chronicle thinks the trade is aimed at the agents of the relief fund, and is due to the fact that the missionaries give publicly to the massacres. The Chronicle believes that Lord Salisbury would count upon French as well as American support in demanding the withdrawal of the trade.

A letter from the superior of the Catholic mission at Orfa declares that 8,000 Armenians have been massacred there recently.

TERRELL IS IN WASHINGTON

He Takes Counsel With the Officials of the State Department.

Washington, April 6.—Terrell, the United States minister at Constantinople, arrived in Washington last night, and today reported his arrival to the state department. He has a long interview with Assistant Secretary Adey and described to him at length the conditions existing in Turkey, when he left that country.

Washington, April 6.—The state department has received word from Mr. Reed, the United States charge at Constantinople, to the effect that the Turkish government is making an official knowledge of the attempt of the local authorities to expel Missionary Knapp from Bitlis. Minister Terrell, who is now in the city, has advised with the departmental officials as to the instructions to be sent to Mr. Reed for his guidance in the case.

This is what happens when the kidneys are rescued from inactivity by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. If they continue inactive they are threatened with Bright's disease, diabetes or some other malady which works their destruction. Malarial, bilious and rheumatic ailments and dyspepsia are also conquered by the Bitters, which is thorough and effective.

SINCE RUSSIA IS OFFENDED

End of the Bourgeoisie Cabinet is Considered Very Near.

London, April 7.—A Paris dispatch to the Standard says: The impression is steadily growing that the Bourgeoisie cabinet is within measurable distance of its end. Its revolutionary tendencies and its diplomatic blunders have met the disapproval of Russia. Therefore M. Bourgeois is in an extremely difficult position.

LOTS OF DEAD DERVISHES

Five Thousand Supposed to Have Perished in a Recent Battle.

London, Eng., April 6.—A Rome correspondent says that 5,000 dead and wounded prisoners in the engagement at Mount Morean, April 2, with the Italian native battalion.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—A dispatch from the city says that a large number of the Dervishes have now abandoned the attack on Cassala, withdrawing to Berber and the Murat wells.

It is rumored that the Abyssinian emperor has just left with a letter from Lord Cromer, the British agent and minister plenipotentiary, to the negus of Abyssinia.

SCHEMES THAT DIDN'T WORK

How a California Gang Planned to Capture Cornelius Vanderbilt.

San Francisco, April 6.—Geo. E. Gard, late chief of the Southern Pacific company's detective force, has made public a plot to kidnap Cornelius Vanderbilt, which for boldness rivals anything ever attempted on the Pacific coast. At least Gard states that he received a letter from one of the conspirators, who were credited with the plot.

The letter, says Gard, "was the most startling epistle I ever received, but I am convinced of its genuineness for I know the person that wrote it, well, as to its history and position."

The conspirators agreed to hold up Vanderbilt's special train at some point in the San Joaquin valley and make the best haul possible. If no money was to be had any other way Cornelius Vanderbilt was to be kidnapped and every one else in the party to be killed if necessary in accomplishment of the end in view.

The plan, decided on as an ideal one, and the train ordinarily would pass through at night. A daylight raid was made and thwarted the gang. In the Vanderbilt party were Chauncey Depew and others. They left for the east last night. Detectives, with the aid of the man who wrote the letter are running down the guilty parties.

San Francisco, April 6.—The officials of the Pacific coast railway say they know nothing of the alleged plot to hold the train upon which Chauncey Depew and Cornelius Vanderbilt were riding last week and about Mr. Vanderbilt.

The story was printed in this city and an interview was given with Detective Gard, formerly in the employ of the Southern Pacific, who said the plot had been revealed to him by a man who at first intended to participate in the crime. Detective Gard is well known in California and his reputation for veracity has never been questioned.

and officially stated that one of his chief reasons for the extraordinary movement on his advance on the Sudan, accepted as hostile by France and Russia, was to make a friendly diversion in behalf of Italy.

All Europe has, in turn, accepted this price as proof of England's sympathy with the triple alliance, and even Germany showed appreciation of this fact by voting with Italy and Austria to assist England's war with the khalf. France and Russia, on the contrary, are abashed with hostile indignation against England because of this movement.

From all this, the importance of an Anglo-Spanish alliance to Great Britain is obvious. Neither Gibraltar nor Malta, and only two ports on the Mediterranean, is capable of either harboring or refitting a fleet, but with both the Italian and Spanish ports thrown open to the British navy, the French fleet at Toulon would be at England's mercy, and Russia could hardly make a junction from the Black sea with the ships of her French ally. Such are the apparent reasons why Great Britain should wish to have such an alliance. It would, however, leave her in safe possession of Gibraltar.

KILLED IN A PRIZE FIGHT

Two Factors Handed In the Manly Art With Fatal Results.

Haverhill, Mass., April 6.—Arthur Bradley and Richard Ingram, factory hands, engaged in a prize fight Saturday night and as a result the latter died yesterday. Bradley and six spectators have been arrested.

Haverhill, Mass., April 6.—Medical Examiner Croston held an autopsy today over the body of Richard Ingram, who died as a result of injuries in a prize fight at Lawrence Saturday night, and finds that death resulted from violence. Further than this the verdict is not made public.

Lawrence, Mass., April 6.—Arthur Bradley, the Haverhill boxer, one of the principals of the fatal prizefight here Saturday night, was arraigned before Judge Stone today, charged with manslaughter and prize fighting, and today reported his arrival to the state department. He has a long interview with Assistant Secretary Adey and described to him at length the conditions existing in Turkey, when he left that country.

Forty Days and Forty Nights He has Been Existing Without Food, Meanwhile Performing His Miraculous Cures Among the Mexican Villages in New Mexico—Continues His Journey Westward, and is Expected to Pass Over into Arizona—The Healer is in a Condition of Great Emaciation.

Silver City, N. M., April 6.—Francis Schlatter, the healer, is now at Pleasanton, a small town in western Socorro county, and is travelling westward towards Arizona. He appeared at Pleasanton last Friday, having been several weeks in retreat among the Mexicans in the small ranch towns in Socorro county performing cures. He says he does not know where his next stopping place will be. It is claimed that several miraculous cures were performed at Pleasanton. Schlatter looks very much emaciated but claims to be in good health. He says that he has just ended a fast of forty days and forty nights. From the route taken by him he will enter Arizona in the vicinity of Duncan.

GOT A LITTLE TOO RABID

Chicago Tribune is Afraid It Will Have to Eat McKinley's Crow.

Chicago, April 6.—The Chicago Tribune, a bitter enemy of McKinley's, which has been fighting him because of his friendliness to silver, has calmed down. The Tribune saw a diabolical of a fellow. This morning it apologizes as follows:

"The Tribune prints as part of the news of the day what the supporters of other presidential candidates have to say about Governor McKinley's financial record, but it does not share the apprehensions which some of the advocates of other candidates say they entertain when they peruse that record."

"The Tribune wants to be fair and therefore it must say that Governor McKinley has been just and sound on the financial question as far as it has been. He has kept in the path of duty and he is sound enough now to satisfy as exacting a man as Senator Sherman, and that indorsement should satisfy every reasonable Republican."

If nominated and elected he will have no fear whatever of his going astray on the financial question.

"It is true his party convention in Ohio adopted a platform which is regarded by many as something of a straddle. Probably it was only the expedient of a politician anxious to get delegates from free silver states. But when the platform is made at St. Louis it will be so explicit for sound money that nobody can misunderstand it. Whoever is nominated will have to accept it and to stand squarely on it."

"The Tribune wants to be understood as having full confidence in Governor McKinley's financial record. It is generally the same as that of this paper. For the last twenty years it has stood about where McKinley has stood. He voted to pass the Allison bill over President Hayes's veto, and has stood with him. No man could have predicted then that silver would continue to fall in spite of the efforts to save it. So who can justify his fault with that part of McKinley's record?"

"It was generally believed that the more extensive use of silver contemplated by the would increase the demand and check the tendency to fall in price. It is especially if an international agreement could be secured for the general recoinage of silver."

"What they said or did in 1878 is a matter of no consequence. They do not believe now that unlimited silver would increase the price of gold, being on 90 cents for the dollar, which can be kept at par by the legislative fiat. There is no school like that of experience, and both the Tribune and the Inter-Ocean, a McKinley paper, taunts the Tribune as follows:

"The Chicago Tribune is at it again. It wants to beat McKinley for president, but over his head it makes a compromise with the silver issue to accomplish its purpose please the Buckeye Governor nearer the hearts of the voters and increases their enthusiasm for him. Only a little while ago, in hot words, the Tribune declared that McKinley would never do for a candidate because he was too high a protectionist, when the shout came back from all over the country: 'That's why we like him, and that's why we want him.'"

Discomfited in that attack, the venerable editor of the Tribune now comes back with the sinister inquiry, 'Is McKinley for free silver?' and follows up the question by a glowing eulogy of his record in congress on the silver question which really shows that he was in happy accord with a great majority of the Republican party on that as well as on other great questions. The truth is, the more the editor of the Tribune attacks Governor McKinley from the high horse of anti-protection and the single gold standard, the more he shows in his heart as he dare, and stay in the Republican party, the more effectively he will aid Governor McKinley to reach the goal of his ambition. On both these questions Governor McKinley was not only with the vast majority of the Republican party, but he showed himself to be moving in close contact with the general public sentiment of the country—showing himself to be in close touch with the people. As we said before, the more prominently Mr. Medill brings this out, the more effectively will his service be in behalf of McKinley."

In our judgment, the Tribune editor is doing a great deal better work for the McKinley cause than the men who are working night and day to prevent the people from seeing that McKinley, from the state of Illinois, of course, the latter are laboring for the nomination of McKinley, and the Tribune editor is laboring to defeat that nomination. But we are quite sure that the editor is doing the most efficient work. The truth is, by such blundering effort against McKinley Mr. Medill is doing more harm than good. When he contrasts McKinley as a silver man with Reed as a gold man he certainly hurts Reed more than had seen McKinley, whom he desires to injure. The fact is that both Governor McKinley and Speaker Reed are bi-metallics. This is shown by their records, which are collected in the book, which has been published by the Republican platform, which have always been bimetallic.

The records too, of both gentlemen, have been consistent with their present positions. The same cannot be said of the record of Mr. Medill. It is within the memory of all persons of mature years that at one time he was one of the most unscrupulous shrewdest of the "dollar of the dollar" in the west. That was back in 1878-79, before he had become a millionaire. A man has reason for a change in financial theories when he looks from a borrower into money-lender—from an interest payer into a coupon clipper. Statesmen seldom make that kind of development, and can, consequently, stand by their records. The real friends of the candidates that the Tribune editor desires to serve should call him off.

His blundering discharges too frequently at the breast.
